Student Research: Forging the Future

Each year, a research symposium is held at JU as an opportunity for students to present the findings of their research and creative projects. Early this month, students presented on topics as wide ranging and relevant as Analyzing Sustainability within Higher Education, Natural Disasters and Drones, and Developing Programming Languages.

Following the symposium, 48 top-notch students traveled to the National Conference on Undergraduate Research in Atlanta, GA to present 28 impressive undergraduate research projects.

Frisch Welcome Center Now Open

The spectacular Frisch Family Welcome Center now serves as a greeting space for prospective students and their families, as well as alumni, fans and other visitors to campus. Centrally located between the Howard and Gooding Buildings, this expansive facility will provide an impressive point of entry for all visitors and will house our new apparel store, JAX Outfitters.

We hope to see you on campus soon so we can show you all of the growth and development at your Alma Mater!

Healthy Campus: Going for the Gold

Jacksonville University is one of only 139 universities and colleges around the world to be honored by Exercise is Medicine® On Campus (EIM-OC) for its efforts to create a culture of wellness on campus. Our efforts to create and maintain an exceptional, healthy academic environment has helped us earn the gold level designation - the highest available - from the EIM-OC program.

Alumni Spotlight: Lucas Meers '12

Lucas Meers '12, founding member of the GOLD Phin Committee, is a conservation program officer at the Jacksonville Zoo and Gardens. He's been involved in conservation projects right here in Jacksonville, and has traveled as far as the rainforest of the Democratic Republic of the Congo.

We love this quote about his time at JU: "There isn't just one memory from JU that is my 'favorite' simply because there are so many memories I wouldn't trade for anything. My overall JU experience provided an opportunity to break out of my shell, be myself, cultivate friendships, and find opportunities," Meers said.
